Dear Muhammad Irfan,

Thank you for your final submission. Unfortunately, it does not fully meet the journal's Final Submission requirements. To proceed in the publication process, you must revise your article to meet the requirements and resubmit the revised article before November 25, 2022. Please review the complete list of required criteria: https://cgscholar.com/cg_support/en/docs/53.

The revisions to your Final Submission should include ALL criteria listed on our website. For your benefit, we request you give special attention to the following requirements:

- Thank you for the changes you have made; however, the article requires further editing/proofreading by a native English speaker to bring the fluency and clarity of the language to the level necessary for the copy editors.
- Please add the "About the Authors" section per our article format (see attached).
- Please revise the reference list and in-text citations to abide by Chicago Manual of Style Author-Date format. Further details can be found in the attached checklist and at the link above. In particular, please note the following:
 - DOIs should be provided for all journal articles, and URLs should be provided for all online-accessed content. A URL can be provided if a DOI is unavailable.
 - Please revise your reference list to include translations of the foreign-language entries. Correct formatting for translations can be found at the following link: https://cgscholar.com/cg_support/en/docs/42-citation-guide

After revising to meet ALL requirements, please send your revised Final Submission via email.
